

Since the nocall law started I no longer dread when the phone rings. I think the mass calling process should stop too. I still get some calls that are all 8's and they hang up after 2 or 3 rings.